Have ineffective lawmakers bungled California's government, or have angry citizens voted in too many laws that impede good governance? California's unique requirement that initiatives not be changed by legislators alone frustrates and obstructs lawmakers. Citizens react by passing further restrictions. California's legislators and voters act as separate halves of the legislative branch, each legislating separately without being linked in any meaningful way. At our November 15 luncheon, author Mark Paul will explain how we can leave the blame behind and fix both direct democracy and the legislature so that these two systems complement each other, instead of just frustrating each other.

Successful National Voter Registration Day in Santa Cruz

Joyce Anderson and Cathi O'Neill registering voters in downtown Santa Cruz

Aptos. Joyce Anderson and Cathi O'Neill registered 7 voters on Pacific Avenue in downtown Santa Cruz. Jan Karwin and her daughter-in-law, Rheta Negrete Karwin, registered 4 voters on the spot and handed out 70 voter registration forms to students or staff in a hurry to get to class at the Watsonville campus of Cabrillo College. Dorrie Kennedy and Nancy Abbey registered 10 voters at Ben Lomond Market in Scotts Valley. Morgan Rankin and Eve Roberson registered 24 voters at the Capitola Mall.

Altogether we registered 58 people on this gratifying day, especially since many of the people we registered were first-time voters. Our heartfelt thanks to all our faithful members who participated!

In addition to voter registration, this election season kept our Voters Service volunteers busy with other election activities. Morgan Rankin did two Pros and Cons talks on the ballot measures and Eve Roberson and Sue Becker did six, a very important service to help voters become informed. Thanks also to Jan Karwin, who represented the League at a debate at Cabrillo College. Ann Wise and Morgan Rankin moderated three candidate forums. Our wonderful timers were Joyce Aoyagi, Barbara Lewis, and Pam Newbury.

Voters Service is what many people identify the League by. Thank you all for being part of this.

—Morgan Rankin and Eve Roberson,

Voters Service co-chairs

The League of Women Voters of Santa Cruz County is proud to have taken part in the National Voter Registration Day drive on September 25, 2012. There were 249 League Chapters who participated in all 50 states, along with more than 1,000 other organizations. A total of 3,600 volunteers registered 180,000 voters.

Many local League members stepped up to help register voters and hand out registration forms. Kathy Van Horn and Wendy Harris registered 13 voters at Cabrillo College in

Membership

Welcome to our new members Dorothy Fry and Wendy Harris, who both came to our September luncheon meeting on health care. Dorothy, an American Association of University Women member, has arranged for pros and cons on the ballot measures to be presented to their local chapter. Wendy Harris, a student at Cabrillo College, is working on voter registration, learning about ballot initiatives, and recruiting other student members. On September 21, with Joyce Anderson hostessing, several recent additions to our League shared experiences and increased their knowledge about how the League of Women Voters works. Those attending were: current League secretary, Kathy Van Horn, Jan Beautz, Geri McGillicuddy, Dorothy Fry, Audie Henry, and Barbara Lewis. This is the third membership coffee hosted by Joyce Anderson and the fourth one to take place during the past year, with each one having a unique direction. Attendees at these events have moved quickly to participate in League activities, such as Voters Service.

Updated membership rosters were e-mailed to current members on September 30 with the help of Laura Grossman and Pam Newbury. On September 28, Barbara Lewis printed and mailed copies to the nine members who currently do not have e-mail. These local rosters should make communications easier within our group. Several drops occurred in our membership due to moves out of Santa Cruz County and job losses, which we hope are temporary. Joan Brown has rejoined the League of Women Voters in Prescott, AZ, where she moved this summer to be near her daughter.

Elizabeth Prince, a former League of Women Voters treasurer and long time member, passed away peacefully at her home in Aptos on the evening of September 23, just before her 97th birthday. I recall going with Elizabeth Prince and Jan Karwin to the state convention in Los Angeles and enjoying an outing to see "The Mousetrap" by Agatha Christie. A lover of theater, Elizabeth was a member of the Carmel Forest Theater Guild, where she was in charge of sets and enjoyed small parts in productions. She was a high school teacher, Vice Principal and Dean of Girls at Edwin Markham Junior High, Principal of Willow Glen Elementary School, and Director of Special Education for San Jose Unified School District. In retirement, she was active in many community groups, including the American Association of University Woman and the California Retired Teachers Association, bringing to each experience competence and a sense of humor.

President's Message

Dear Fellow League Members:

On October 22 I attended the First Annual Cabrillo College Town Hall: Election 2012 and the California Ballot, Debating the Propositions event sponsored by the Associated Students of Cabrillo College Senate. Trevor Nakagawa, a member of the Political Science Department, acted as moderator. Don Lane, the mayor of Santa Cruz, spoke of the importance of the Town Hall concept and expressed the hope that the college would continue to sponsor such debates. Students who were not already registered to vote were given the opportunity to register at a booth set up outside the hall.

The panelists discussed and debated Propositions 30, 32, 34 and 36. Proposition 34, the death penalty initiative, engendered a particularly lively debate with Professor Ellen Kreitzberg, of the Santa Clara Law School, speaking in favor of the amendment and Mike Rotkin, former Mayor of Santa Cruz, speaking not so much in opposition but acting as a "devil's advocate." Proposition 32, "Political Contributions by Payroll Deduction," also received a lot of attention because the college professors belong to a union. When Proposition 36, the "Three Strikes Law" was debated, our own Jan Karwin, who was also on the panel, presented background information on the Three Strikes Law adopted by the voters in 1994 and a neutral summary of the provisions of the current proposition to amend it. Professor Kreitzberg spoke in favor of Proposition 36 and Phil Carr, a Criminal Justice professor at Cabrillo, spoke as "devil's advocate." Proposition 30, "Temporary Taxes to Fund Education," received a lot of attention, too. Dr. Dan Rothwell, a member of the Cabrillo College faculty, spoke in favor of it and Ethan Bearman, a radio show host, spoke against.

All in all, I thought it was an excellent, well-attended debate, and felt that the students asked interesting questions. I'm pleased that Jan was able to represent the League.

I'm sure we are all looking forward to our November 15 luncheon meeting at Hoffman's Bistro at 11:30 A.M. Our speaker will be author Mark Paul, and his topic, "Breaking the Cycle of Contempt: How to Fix the Initiative," should be very helpful in preparing members for the Initiative and Referendum Study consensus meetings to be held in January and February. So many initiatives have been passed over the years that our assembly members and state senators must have to seek legal counsel before they can enact a statute. Details on the luncheon and RSVP information can be found in the article on page 1.

Our Board will be meeting on November 13. The election will be over by then!!! Hurrah!!! Kudos to all the League members who have worked hard getting out the vote, working at polling places, and helping with all the other tasks in connection with this election.

Happy Veteran's Day to all.

Sincerely,
Irene Thomas
President LWVSCC
